Bl. James of Ulm, OP

A Hired Killer and Spy Turn Stain Glass Artist and Blessed

The Griesingers were a respectable family of Ulm in Germany, where Bl. James was born in the year 1407. He left home when he was twenty-five and went to Italy. He was first a soldier at Naples, but the licentiousness of military life shocked and frightened him, and when he found that his comrades took no notice of his better example and words, he left the army and became secretary to a lawyer at Capua. He did his work so well that when, at the end of five years, he wanted to leave, but his master refused to let him go. So James slipped away and made for Germany, but when he got so far as Bologna he was induced again to enlist as a soldier, with the task of covertly killing enemies, stealing, and espionage. In that city he used often to go to the shrine of St Dominic, and presently he was moved to offer himself as a lay brother to the friars there. He was accepted, and for fifty years he was a model of regular observance and virtue. His prior on one occasion wished to display the lay brother's prompt obedience for the edification of a visiting prelate. He called for Brother James and gave him a letter, saying it was to be taken to Paris at once. The journey ordered was a long, toilsome and dangerous one, but James just pocketed the letter and asked permission first to go to his cell to get his hat and stick. The works of the Friars of the Order of Preachers hold a remarkable place in the history of Christian art, and Bl. James, like his fellow Dominican William of Marcillat, was a master of the art of painting on glass. On such work he was principally engaged, and he prepared himself for it by assiduous prayer, whereat he was often rapt in ecstasy; a number of miracles were attributed to him both before and after death. Bl. James died on October 11 1491, being eighty-four years old to a day, and was

Tria Haec: Spes (Hope) When We Pray

Everything belongs to God and all that belongs to Him will return. If faith is a gift that we acquire through study and fear of the Lord, according to the Catechism of the Catholic Church, Christian hope is “the theological virtue by which we desire the kingdom of heaven and eternal life as our happiness, placing our trust in Christ’s promises and relying not on our own strength, but on the help of the grace of the Holy Spirit. We can gain all our desires with our abilities and strength so long as we have the deep desire and motivation to gain it. There is thing that we cannot gain by using our own God given abilities, strengths, and power, we need the help of God too. Reliance with our God given abilities, strengths and power alone is not enough to gain our greatest and innermost desire of Happiness in Heaven, it is through God and by God, we can possess it. If we are persistent in chasing our aspirations and desires, we must be persistent in also asking God to answer all our good intentions and our eternal happiness. The virtue of Holy Hope is reliance in God and giving thanks for all forms, ways, and means in how to obtain what is Good for us.

Stewardship of Earthly Treasure presented by Fr. William Kunisch,

Pastor of St. Anthony Church, Kailua, Oahu at Stewardship Day 2022. Fr. William explores the various concepts and practices found in both scripture and personal money management.

Fr. William spoke of Tithing as a way to grow in holiness. In scripture, "Tithing" means a "tenth". Giving ten percent of the first fruits of the harvest...the first of the best.

Tithes are given to the church on the Lord's Day as an act of worship. Tithing is the purpose of our ministry to give gratitude for our past and keep our priority in the present.

The promise of Tithing brings peace, contentment of what we have which leads to growth in the virtue of generosity and fosters happiness.
