Bl. Avelino Rodríguez, O.S.A. and Companion Martyrs of The Spanish Civil War

The Spanish Civil War (1936-1939) was a time of great difficulty for the Church in general, and for priests and friars in particular. More than 7000 priests, friars and nuns were martyred. Their crime: being a priest or religious. In addition, more than 3500 lay persons were martyred in witness to their Christian faith. Besides Blessed Anselm Polanco, O.S.A., who was martyred in 1939, six groups of Augustinian friars totaling 98 men, gave their lives in witness to their Christian faith. The processes of beatification and canonization of the five groups of martyrs were begun at various times between 1950 and 1964. Diocesan investigations were concluded between 1955 and 1967. The Congregation of Saints combined the causes of the five groups in 1990 and officially recognized the validity of the unified cause in 1991.

The Ordinary Historical Meeting of the Congregation of Saints approved their designation as martyrs March 11, 2005. Then, on December 19, 2006, the Plenary Meeting of Cardinals and Bishops of the Congregation gave additional approval of their beatification, and sent its recommendation to Pope Benedict XVI. The Pope on June 1, 2007 confirmed their martyrdom. These Augustinian martyrs, along with some 400 others, including lay Catholics, members of other religious institutes, priests and bishops, who gave their lives in witness to Christ, were beatified October 29, 2007. Josef Sciberras, O.S.A., the Augustinian Postulator of Causes, oversees the progress of the cause for canonization.

Tria Haec: Fides, Spes et Caritas (Faith, Hope, and Charity)

The theological virtues are the foundation of Christian moral activities. Faith, Hope, and Charity. The fruits of charity are joy, peace, and mercy; charity demands beneficence and fraternal correction. For Hope is perseverance and joy in serving and doing the will God. Faith gives meaning to life and the practice of Hope and Charity. The encounter of Zacchaeus and Jesus summarizes the previous lessons that we have regarding the three Theological Virtues. Despite of the small stature of Zacchaeus, his ascent to the tree with hopes to see Jesus and hear the Word Incarnate gave him an opportunity to be noticed and be visited by Jesus, his newfound faith in Jesus led him to conversion and becoming a co-worker of transformation to his friend who are also labeled as sinners and traitors. Zacchaeus became a disciple of charity when he invited his friend to see and speak with Jesus. As we conclude the lessons of the Tria Haec, the Good things, may we be like Zacchaeus whose yes where opened in meeting Jesus, may we be living instruments of Faith, Hope, and Charity when we encounter Jesus in the Holy Eucharist.

A Thanksgiving Prayer by St. Vincent Meals on Wheels

Heavenly Father,

Today we give thanks for our many blessings as we pray for those in need.

We give thanks for our family and friends as we pray for those who are lonely.
We give thanks for our freedoms as we pray for those who are oppressed.
We give thanks for our good health as we pray for those who are ill.
We give thanks for our comfort and prosperity as we share our blessings with others.

On this day of Thanksgiving, may the love of God enfold us,
The peace of God dwell within us and the joy of God uplift us. Amen.
